THE BATTLE OF ALL BATTLES

Sup my fellow Resident Evil maniacs? I thought I'd do something a little different for a change. This "page" is only to set up the rules for the most BADD$$$BATTLE you'll ever conceive. All characters belong to their respective owners (in this case capcom). Here we go:

RESIDENT EVIL: BLOODSHED

Good evening Ladies and gentleman. As you all know, I am the head of Umbrella Inc. You may call me Smith. I've brought you all here today to bear witness to the answer of a question that has saprked all of our curiosity. We (Umbrella inc.) Have gathered one of each creature from the Raccon Incidents, as well as rockfort island, and the antarctic facility and have placed them in individual cages you see in the room behind you. Once I press this control panel, the cages will open and we will see the greatest battle of all time. The victor...will be the ultimate BIOweapon. In case you don't understand, allow me to clarify it:

>

In the room behind us, the only objects are metal bars in the walls. Once the bars raise, one of our bioweapons will emerge.
Excmample:

Cage 1: Zombie

Cage 2: Tyrant

Cage 3: Giant Spider

and so on until one of every creature we have developed stand before you. That is a lot of...weapons. The only actual "weapon" allowed in the room is the Nemesis's Rocket launcher. That brings up something else. There is no mutating allowed once the game starts. There will already be one of each creatures "form" in the room. Example:

Cage 32: Nemesis type 1

Cage 33: Nemesis type 2

and so on and so forth. There will also be one human.....volounter.....in the room. He will only be armed with a Knife. Once I press this panel, all the cages will open and in will pour one of every monster from the Resident Evil Visdeo Game Series, and one human. Pull up Chair.....Click.

SO....Who will win??? Will it be Nemesis??? Tyrant??? A lowly crow??? Instead of rating me, give me answers!!!
